Our play inspiration this week:
Be an eco super hero!

Somebody Swallowed Stanley

Stanley is in the wrong place. At the end of the story someone finds a good use for him!

I wonder what that could be?

Jamaican Fish Curry

See website for details.

What leftovers do you have in the fridge you could substitute?

Great for all the family.

Suitable from 7 months

start 4 life

Activity Idea - Older Explorers Wellie Walk/Bug Hunt/Clean Up

While you and the children enjoy the coming spring walks, look out for bug activity under leaves and logs.

Meanwhile be an environment superhero and go prepared to pick up litter while you talk to your child about why it's important to protect our wildlife.

Did you know...

Homemade cakes and biscuits are more environmentally friendly than the ones you buy in the shop as there is less packaging. They could be healthier too because you can control what ingredients and how much sugar goes into them too.

Activity Idea - Tiny Tots Peek a Boo!

No need to buy expensive toys that will end up in landfill. Lots of games use things you already have such as a blanket or item of clothing to hide your face and play peek a boo.

Or hide Teddy under a blanket and then say, 'Where's Teddy?'
